

SUMMER SCHOOL

of the Interdisciplinary Centre for Educational Research

11th/12th September 2014

Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

Place of event:

Seminar building at Hegelplatz (Dorotheenstraße 24)

„The methodology chapter in doctoral (and MA)
research - quite essential, but also self-evident?

Focus: language teaching & learning

Questions and Application

franziska.roehr@hu-berlin.de or 2093-4166

Interdisciplinary Centre for Educational Research

Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

zentrum-bildungsforschung.hu-berlin.de

Programme Overview

Thursday 11 th September 2014
08.00 – 09.00	Application (Room 1.502)
09.00 – 09.15	Welcome and Introduction to IZBF Summer School 2014 (Room 1.501)
09.00 – 09.45	Individual introduction of participants (Room 1.501)
09.45 – 12.30	Keynote presentation and Workshop I (Room 1.501)
11.00 – 11.15	Coffee break (Room 1.502)
12.30 – 14.00	Lunch break
14.00 – 17.00	Keynote presentation and Workshop II (Room 1.501)
15.30 – 15.45	Coffee break (Room 1.502)
17.00 – 17.30	Wrap-up of the day and prospects
19.00	Dinner (Direct payer)

Friday, 12 th September 2014
09.00 – 09.15	Welcome (Room 1.501)
09.15 – 12.30	Keynote presentation and Workshop III (Room 1.501)
11.15 – 11.30	Coffee break (Room 1.502)
12.30 – 14.00	Lunch break
14.00 – 17.00	Keynote presentation and Workshop IV (Room 1.501)
15.30 – 15.45	Coffee break (Room 1.502)
17.00 – 17.30	Wrap-up of the day and conclusion

Programme

Thursday, 11th September 2014, 9.45 - 12.30, Room 1.501

Keynote presentation I: On the relevance of research questions with special focus on (foreign language) didactics

Prof. Dr. Daniela Caspari, Freie Universität Berlin

Workshop I

Focus on emerged questions and issues such as:

- Basic assumptions of a research question
- Contexts of relevance for the individual project
- Scope of the expected result

Presentation: Prof. Dr. Daniela Caspari, Freie Universität Berlin

Co-Moderation: Prof. Dr. Stefan Kipf, Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

Thursday, 11th September 2014, 14.00 – 17.00, Room 1.501

Keynote presentation II: On the relation between qualitative and quantitative empiricism

Prof. Dr. Andreas Bonnet, Universität Hamburg

Workshop II

- Research topic and methods
- Perspectives opened /excluded by individual research (potentials and limitations of analytic-nomothetic and interpretive-reconstructive methods)

Presentation: Prof. Dr. Andreas Bonnet, Universität Hamburg

Co-Moderation: Prof. Dr. Lutz Küster, Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

Friday, 12th September 2014, 9.15 - 12.30, Room 1.501

Keynote presentation III: Example of practice - Language Attitude Methodology

Prof. Dr. Itesh Sachdev, SOAS University of London

Workshop III

- Which research questions can be applied to the research object?
- Which research methods and tools/techniques can be attributed?
- What can be done with the expected results?

Presentation: Prof. Dr. Itesh Sachdev, SOAS University of London

Co-Moderation: Prof. Dr. Stephan Breidbach, Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

Friday, 12th September 2014, 14.00 – 17.00, Room 1.501

Keynote presentation IV: Issues of research ethics

Prof. Dr. Gerhard Bach, Universität Bremen and Prof. Dr. Britta Viebrock, Goethe-Universität Frankfurt am Main

Workshop IV

- Reprise keynote presentation I with respect to the ethical perspective of research: who does research, why, to/with what/whom and how – and does it all work out well?
- Reflexion on the researcher's acting and who is affected
- How to communicate the intend and results and how to take responsibility for one's own research?

Presentation: Prof. Dr. Gerhard Bach, Universität Bremen

Prof. Britta Viebrock, Goethe-Universität Frankfurt am Main

Co-Moderation: Prof. Dr. Anka Bergmann, Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

Further information:

Please send your application to franziska.roehr@hu-berlin.de

Time for applications: 25th August 2014, 50 participants at a max

Attendance fee: IZBF-members: 20 Euro, non-members: 50 Euro