

Between Cosmology and Community: Religion and Sustainable Development

Paper Submission

Deadline for the submission of full revised papers: 30 September 2019

We cordially invite all conference presenters to submit their full papers for publication in the peer-reviewed open access journal Religion & Development.

- We encourage you to revise your paper taking into account the comments and feedback at the conference.
- The maximal length of the paper is 5000 words (including references, but excluding the abstract).
- Please include an abstract of 150 to 250 words.
- Kindly use British English spelling.
- Please format your references according to the Chicago Manual of Style Author-Date referencing system (https://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide/citation-guide-2.html).
- To facilitate a smooth peer-review and publication process, kindly have your paper proof-read before submitting it.
- The submission deadline is 30 September 2019.
- All papers will subsequently undergo full academic peer review. You will likely be expected to revise your paper on the basis of the reviewers' comments.
- Due to the nature of the peer review process, there is no a priori guarantee of publication.
